

face collage

Materials needed:

5x7 inch cardboard rectangle (you can use a cereal box or a shipping box), crayons/markers, glue stick & liquid glue, color construction paper, scissors and popsicle sticks

Optional: string, embellishments such as feathers, pipe cleaners, sequins, buttons, etc.

How to do it:

1. Cut your construction paper to cover the cardboard rectangle. Glue it in place with the glue stick.
2. Cut shapes from construction paper to make facial features. Use the glue stick to attach them. Think about layering the shapes or folding them to make the features pop off the page.
3. Use popsicle sticks to form legs, eyebrows, ears, a nose, or anything else you'd like to include. Attach the popsicle sticks with the liquid glue. It will stick better.
4. Optional: Use the embellishments to create features and decorate the face
5. If you'd like to hang your sculpture, use a small piece of string to glue a loop to the back.

How this art relates to Dalí:

A collage is piece of art made by sticking various materials such as photographs and pieces of paper or fabric on to a backing. In his 1928 work, The Bather, Dalí attached sand and gravel to the surface of his painting. In other works, Dalí used materials like cutouts from magazines and photographs to create collages.
