

Dear Principal or Head of School,

Your teachers are vital members of our arts community. A visit to The Dalí Museum enhances curriculum by providing engaging, meaningful, and relevant learning opportunities for your students and teachers.

As a nonprofit art & educational institution, The Dalí Museum's mission is to care for and share an expertly curated collection of Salvador Dalí's work, preserving his legacy for generations to come. And, through K-12 school field trips, the Museum serves as an active resource in the cultural life of our community and the world at large.

Our school tours encourage students to look carefully at works of art, articulate their ideas about them, and make connections to their own lives. Our emphasis on creativity skills provides vital support to many areas of school curriculum.

We hope you make the Dalí part of your students' academic experience, and we encourage you to support your teachers and students in pursuing museum-based programs as an integral part of their curricula. We look forward to supporting your needs and interests. If you have any questions, you may contact me at 727.623.4778.

With best wishes,

Len St Clair
