dalí museum history

Founded with a core collection of works from A. Reynolds and Eleanor Morse, the Museum has made significant additions to its collection over the years.

In 1942, the Morses visited a traveling Dalí retrospective at the Cleveland Museum of Art organized by the Museum of Modern Art in New York and became fascinated with the artist's work. On March 21, 1943, the Morses bought their first Dalí painting, Daddy Longlegs of the Evening – Hope! (1940).

This was the first of many acquisitions, which would culminate 40 years later in the preeminent collection of Dalí's work in America. On April 13, 1943, the Morses met Salvador Dalí and his wife Gala in New York, initiating a long, rich friendship with regular visits to the Dalís' villa in Port Lligat, Spain.

The Morses first displayed their Dalí paintings in their home, and by the mid-1970s decided to donate their entire collection. A Wall Street Journal article titled, "U.S. Art World Dillydallies Over Dalí," caught the attention of the St. Petersburg, FL community who rallied to bring the collection to the area. The Dalí Museum first opened its doors in 1982 in St. Petersburg. The distinguished current building, which opened on January 11, 2011, enables the Museum to better protect and display the collection, to welcome the public, and to educate and promote enjoyment. In a larger sense, it is a place of beauty dedicated to understanding and transformation.

This preeminent collection of Dalí's work is one of the most acclaimed collections of a single modern artist in the world, with artwork representing every moment and medium of his creative life. The collection was formed by A. Reynolds and Eleanor R. Morse, garnered over a period of four decades and features over 2,400 Salvador Dalí works, including nearly 300 oil paintings, watercolors and drawings as well as more than 2,100 prints, photographs, posters, textiles, sculptures and objets d'art.

The Dalí Museum owns eight Dalí Masterworks, the highest concentration of Masterworks of any institution in the world. Coined by Dalí Museum founder A. Reynolds Morse, the term "masterworks" refers to paintings exceeding five feet in height or width, painted over a period of a year or longer—in other words, they are both monumental in scale and critical Dalí paintings.

the dalí museum building

The Dalí's stunning building opened on January 11, 2011. Designed by architect Yann Weymouth of HOK, the structure combines the rational with the fantastical: a simple rectangle with 18-inch thick hurricane-proof walls out of which erupts a large free-form geodesic glass bubble known as "The Enigma." As a whole, the Museum spans more than 68,000 square feet.

Take a virtual tour with the free Dalí Museum mobile guide. Learn more at TheDali.org/Guide.

the enigma

The Enigma, which is made up of 1,062 triangular pieces of glass, stands 75 feet at its tallest point, a twenty-first century homage to the dome that adorns Dalí's museum in Spain. Inside, the Museum houses another unique architectural feature—a helical staircase—recalling Dalí's obsession with spirals and the "world beyond," as well as his fascination with the double helical shape of the DNA molecule.

the avant-garden

Ideally situated on the scenic waterfront, The Dalí's Avant-garden is inspired by the artist's fascination with the duality of art and nature and creates a unique environment of learning and tranquility. The Mathematical Garden allows visitors to experience the relationship between math and nature and invites exploration and imagination.

ground floor

Visitors enter through the The Dalí Museum Store, which showcases the largest collection of Dalí-inspired merchandise in the world. Over 85% of its items are exclusive to the Museum. Café Gala offers light, Spanish-inspired tapas and fare with indoor and outdoor seating.

The ground floor also houses a theater, education room and community room. Access to the Museum's ground floor is free and open to the public.

All of the galleries are located on the third floor, which requires a Gallery Admission ticket. In between the two main wings of the Museum, guests can snap a photo or relax in an overlook with breathtaking views of the gardens and the Bay through The Enigma. The James Family Wing holds the permanent collection of Dalí's works. The Hough Family Wing hosts special exhibitions.

the dalí dome
Opened in summer 2023, The Dalí Dome is a 2,000+ sq. ft., 39-foot-tall immersive space with 14 ceiling-mounted projectors. Its debut presentation, Dalí Alive 360°, explores Dalí's life and work, with new shows continuing in this extraordinary format. Built with over 500 steel rods and reinforced walls, the geodesic structure withstands floods and hurricanes, while its exterior melting clocks pay tribute to Dalí's surreal vision.

café gala
Café Gala invites visitors into a playful taste of Spain. Named for Dalí's muse, the café serves light breakfast and lunch, plus coffee and pastries for a mid-day escape. Enjoy local Kahwa espresso drinks, classic sweets like crema catalana, tiramisu and mantecados, and a curated selection of beer and wine—including its signature Cava Rosado.

museum store
The Dalí Museum Store offers hundreds of Dalí-inspired gifts—from books and wearable art to fragrances, melting clock accessories, home décor, jewelry and more. Most items are exclusive to the Museum, making it an ideal stop for one-of-a-kind treasures. Top sellers are also available at The Dalí Museum Online Store at shop.thedalí.org.

dalí alive 360°* in the dalí dome

The Dalí Museum's Dalí Alive 360° is an immersive experience celebrating the life and creative genius of Salvador Dalí. This multisensory art experience envelops visitors in 360 degrees of light and sound within The Dalí Dome.

The dynamic animations of Dalí's works featured in Dalí Alive 360° illuminate the challenges and triumphs of his artistic career through Spain, Paris and America while giving the sensation of stepping into Dalí's life.

Dalí Alive was co-produced by the Museum and Grande Experiences, a world leader in the creation and display of multisensory, immersive experiences. Dalí Alive 360° is a customized experience with imagery created specifically for the 360-degree environment of The Dalí Dome by Omnispace360, the creator of immersive environments as seen at Austin City Limits and six Super Bowls.

Opened in the summer of 2023, The Dalí Dome is a unique space designed to showcase art like never before. Spanning over 2,000 square feet, standing 39 feet tall and stretching more than 60 feet wide, The Dome features 14 projectors hung from a central truss in the ceiling that project onto the walls and floor. This monumental structure took just over a year to build and reflects the Museum's commitment to innovation and education.

the dalí museum's community impact

The Dalí has been the unofficial heart of fine arts in the area since its opening in 1982. The debut of the current location in January 2011 further established the Museum as the epicenter of arts in the local community. The current building has contributed to the cultural renaissance that has taken place in the downtown area—a movement that has experienced an explosion of artistic institutions and outlets that both residents and visitors to the destination can enjoy.

The Dalí provides an overall economic impact to the greater St. Petersburg/Clearwater area of more than $106 million and prompts direct spending in our community of more than $53 million each year.

Nearly half of all Dalí Museum patrons are overnight visitors, spending a median of 3.2 nights in the area. Nearly all visitors (79.5%) coming to the St. Petersburg/Clearwater area for the day noted The Dalí as their primary reason for visiting the county, with one-half of all (day & overnight) guests stating the Museum was their main reason for their visit. Out-of-county Dalí Museum patrons report also planning to visit numerous other attractions across the Tampa Bay area, including Busch Gardens, the Chihuly Collection, the Florida Aquarium and the Museum of Fine Arts, St. Petersburg.

The Dalí welcomes as many as 350,000 visitors annually, including guests from over 40 countries. Approximately 10,000 local students tour the Museum annually at free or discounted rates.

Community outreach includes the Student Surrealist Art Exhibit program and more.
